Understanding Your Bill

Your Cape Fear Public Utility Authority (CFPUA) bill contains a lot of information;

how much water you use, how much it costs, your recent usage history, how much you pay for maintaining our infrastructure and (if applicable) what you pay for City of Wilmington trash and stormwater services. Because your bill contains so much information, we have created this guide to walk you through your bill and how we charge you for your services.

The top right-hand corner of your bill contains the basics of your bill: 1) The bill date. The date CFPUA ran your bill; 2) Your account number; 3) The amount of your last payment; 4) Any balance remaining on the account; 5) The current amount due on your bill; 6) The current bill's due date; and 7) The amount due if you miss the date due.

Your Service Chart

The center of your bill contains a wealth of information. It lays out in a clear, concise way:

- The Water Base Charge, which covers funding for our infrastructure projects;
- Your water usage in thousands of gallons, based on your meter reading;

- Your water usage rate per thousand gallons, which covers the cost of producing the water;
- The Sewer Base Charge, which covers funding for our infrastructure projects;
- Your sewer usage rate, based on your meter reading. This covers the cost of processing the wastewater; and
- Your total bill amount for CFPUA charges.

If you live in the City of Wilmington, you have two additional charges on your bill. The first covers the fee for your city trash services and the second is the fee for the handling of stormwater by the City.

Finally, there are two additional lines, one showing your total current charges and another showing the total amount due on your bill.

Important Information:

Your service may be disconnected at any time for delinquent amounts included in balance forward.

Due date pertains to current charges only. If payment is not received on your past due balance immediately your service is subject to disconnection. A reconnect fee of $55 will be charged to restore service.
